LOSSES ARE VERY HEAVY

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN
Moscow, July 13—(P)—Field Marshal Guenther Von Kluge threw the entire weight of his armored columns into a furious attack today against the southern end of the 200-mile Orel-Kursk-Belgorod front in an action designed to enlarge the Belgorod wedge and blast a major breach in the Russian lines.

Dropping all efforts to break through on the northern end of the salient, Von Kluge fell back on the old Nazi power-house play, but the thick Red defenses remained impenetrable, although fighting became so violent that even tank crews of the opposing forces broke into hand-to-hand fighting on one occasion.

(A German communique broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by the Associated Press, claimed that the Nazi armored forces with the support of the German air force had gained further ground in the area just north of Belgorod and had smashed strong enemy counter-attacks on other sectors of the front. The Russians suffered "heavy losses" the German communique said, including a total of 400 tanks and 123 aircraft.)

The tremendous success of the Red armies was indicated by an announcement today that the Germans have "despaired" of breaking through on the Orel-Kursk sector, after suffering immense losses in one of the most determined attacks they have launched since the nine-day offensive started. Today, the Russians said, German forces on this sector have been considerably reduced in size and are being used merely to consolidate their present positions.

While the Russian midnight communique reported that German attacks were somewhat weaker in the northern area around Orel, the Soviet army newspaper Red Star said the struggle around Belgorod was daily becoming "more acute," with the Nazis hurling wave after wave of 60-ton Tiger tanks into the fray in an attempt to widen a wedge they drove into the defenses last week.

The fighting, Red Star said, gained the German forces nothing and resulted only in further heavy losses of manpower and heavy equipment. The Russian midnight communique reported that the Germans had (Turn to Page Seven)

Clearfield Woman Hurls To Her Death

Harrisburg, July 13—(P)—Attractive Mrs. Saul Robinson, 40, wife of a Clearfield merchant and mother of three children, rented a room at the Harrisburg Hotel yesterday, asked the bell boy how to open the screen and 11 minutes later plunged to her death on the street 14 floors below.

She was identified by Dr. Earl H. Grim, county coroner, who called her death a suicide and said she suffered a crushed skull and fractures of the left arm and ankle.

Reported in ill health for some time, Mrs. Robinson refused a room on the seventh floor as "not high enough." She had no luggage and paid in advance. An eyewitness, said Mrs. Robinson's body narrowly missed the hotel marquee under which two women were walking. Detectives found $30 in cash in a pocketbook in her room.

COUNTY CATTLEMEN
JOIN BIG ASSOCIATION

Brattleboro, Vt., July 13—Arthur Carlstrom and Arvid Guber and son of Akeley, are among the 73 Pennsylvania Holstein breeders recently admitted to membership in the Holstein-Friesian Association of America by unanimous vote of the Board of Directors. This National Association is the largest cattle recording organization in the world. Its membership now numbers more than 33,000 cattle breeders.

New Draft Legislation Will Probably Bring all Elders

Service

HEARINGS PLANNED

Washington, July 13—(P)—New draft legislation, including a proposal to require all adult men and women to register for service in the war effort, will be the subject of extensive hearings by the house military committee when the congressional recess ends in September.

By that time, Chairman May (D-Ky.) said today, the committee hopes to have available more data bearing on the prospect of inducting fathers.

May said he shared a general belief among committee members that the induction of fathers would be put off for some time, perhaps indefinitely.

However, he added, should the outlook in September indicate the early induction of fathers, additional financial provisions for them would have to be made speedily by congress.

Also on the committee's docket for early consideration is the Austin-Wadsworth national service bill under which all men and women would be required to register for assignment to services where there was a need for them—in the armed forces, industry or agriculture.

Fresh interest was aroused in the proposal after Rep. Wadsworth (R-N.Y.), co-author of the selective (Turn to Page Seven)

Turin Is Pounded By the RAF In Heavy Raid Monday

London, July 13—(P)—Home-based bombers of the RAF struck a heavy blow at Turin in northern Italy last night in operations co-ordinated with the Allied invasion of Sicily, the British announced today.

The raiders encountered bad weather both on the outward and return trips, the announcement said, but the sky was clear over the target area and they unloaded the "usual heavy concentration of bombs" on their objectives.

The planes were dispersed on the return flight because of the bad weather. The first announcement said the losses were "about normal" for such an operation.

WAR FUND LEADERS PLANNING MEETINGS

Harrisburg, July 13—(P)—County and district chairmen of the new state war fund will meet in Harrisburg July 29 to draw up for a financial appeal next fall in 14 south-central Pennsylvania counties.

Vance C. McCormick, Harrisburg publisher, regional chairman for the co-ordinated drive to raise funds for war relief and community chests, will preside. The state's goal in the campaign is $10,288,165.

The main body of those agreeing to end the walkout are employed at four mines of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, in the Monongahela river valley, where the strike has lasted the longest.

Approximately 4,000 went back yesterday when for the first time in three weeks there were virtually no pickets out.

A meeting of the Gates local of the United Mine Workers broke up in confusion last night after a proposal was made to vote to return to work. About 90 men from the 900-strong Palmer mine of Frick voted after an hour and one half of debate, to go back.

U. S. Attorney Charles F. Uhl disclosed officially for the first time yesterday that the federal grand jury convening in special session here tomorrow will deal with the insurgent strike, which kept more than 18,000 men idle last week.

Uhl said the FBI is conducting "an intensive investigation" to determine definite causes for continuing the strike.

Dutch Airmen Bomb Jap Held Island

New York, July 13—(P)—Aneta, official Netherlands news agency, said today that fliers of the Netherlands East Indies air force flying American-built Mitchell bombers at dawn yesterday bombed and strafed the Japanese air-drome and enemy-occupied villages on the island of Selaru in the Timor group—west of Dutch New Guinea.

One crop of peas has already been harvested and the ground replanted with carrots. Five thousand cabbages now are ready to be sold, while 10,000 new plants have just been set out.

There are 85,000 tomato plants and a six-acre plot has been planted in beans.

The company solved the problem of farm machinery by purchasing a team of horses.

The company also has launched a pig farm, with 10 shoats. It plans to slaughter the animals and sell the meat to the workmen—if the OPA will consent.

FARM GOALS FOR 1944 TO BE HIGHER

Government Wants 380,000,000 Acres Under Cultivation During Next Year

TO AID FARMERS

Washington, July 13—(P)—Calling on farmers to mobilize every crop acre and farming facility for a record harvest next year, Marvin Jones, head of the war food administration (WFA), announced today the government in 1944 wants 380,000,000 acres of crops planted and meat, dairy and egg production maintained at high levels.

The projected acreage is an increase of 16,000,000 over that planted for 1943 harvest and Jones explained:

"The program recognizes that demands for food will be imperative for several years and that sound practices must be followed to insure highest possible yields over a period of years."

Included in the program, he said are measures to assist farmers in carrying out conservation practices and in maintaining maximum productivity of their land.

He promised that considerably more machinery and fertilizer would be available for the 1944 crop.

Jones said there was need for more dry beans and peas, soybeans, potatoes and peanuts which have high food value.

A specific goal of 88,000,000 acres of wheat was set for 1944, compared with 54,149,000 acres for harvest this year.

The total slaughter of meat for the next 12 months, Jones said, (Turn to Page Seven)

ROSS' CHARGE BEING STUDIED BY STEWART

Harrisburg, July 13—(P)—A charge by Auditor General F. Clair Ross that a $696,37 shortage has been found in the accounts of the Philadelphia branch of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics was studied today by Dr. A. H. Stewart, secretary of the Department of Health under which the bureau is operated.

Dr. Stewart declined comment, pending his investigation, on the Democratic official's statement that the asserted shortage "resulted from haphazard and slipshod administration of the office."

Ross, who said that "in some instances, possibly to confer favor, the legal fee for record-searching was not charged," added in his statement that "full restitution of the missing funds and application of the law in such speculation, will be sought in the usual manner through the attorney general."

The board, which also is considering parole applications from prisoners in the Eastern Penitentiary, Holmesburg and Philadelphia county, said the paroles were for June and July.

The board asserted the retiring five-man parole board, eliminated by the 1943 legislature, left the new agency an accumulation of three months work.

NEW BOARD GRANTS LONG LIST OF PAROLES

Harrisburg, July 13—(P)—The new state parole board, headed by Major Henry C. Hill, granted its first paroles today to 275 prisoners in the Allegheny County Workhouse and the Western and Rockview penitentiaries.

The board, which also is considering parole applications from prisoners in the Eastern Penitentiary, Holmesburg and Philadelphia county, said the paroles were for June and July.

The board asserted the retiring five-man parole board, eliminated by the 1943 legislature, left the new agency an accumulation of three months work.

KULA GULF AGAIN IS BATTLE SEA

Enemy Losses May Be Even Greater Than Reported
When All Details
Are In

FIGHT STILL RAGING

BY C. YATES McDANIEL
Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, July 13—(P)—A Japanese cruiser and three destroyers were sent to the bottom of the Kula Gulf—graveyard of at least nine other enemy warships—by guns of the United States navy in a battle which began last night.

Two other enemy destroyers probably were sunk and enemy losses may be even greater when all reports are in. The battle still was in progress, it was indicated, at the time preliminary reports were received today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur from Admiral William F. Halsey.

But already Japan has expended between 13 and 17 cruisers and destroyers in two battles in the central Solomons while trying to hold apart the jaws of a mantrap which American jungle fighters are clamping on the enemy air base of Munda, on New Georgia Island.

Both battles in the Kula Gulf, which is 15 miles long and eight miles across at its widest part, occurred as units of the Japanese navy, moving down from the northern Solomons, encountered United States war vessels blocking along the gulf. In the first battle July 5-6, loss of the Cruiser U. S. S. Helena was acknowledged, available reports on the second battle mentioned no United States losses.

Today's action-packed account from General MacArthur showed Japan everywhere losing the fight for Munda on New Georgia, in the air above it and in the seas offshore.

Ten miles northeast of it, a Japanese ground force of considerable strength was trapped at Enogai inlet and wiped out. Munda has been cut off from its supply port on the Kula gulf by a barricade of burning jungle.

East of it, American jungle fighters are less than two miles away.

Over Rabaul, an air and shipping fortress of the enemy which may be the ultimate objective of the present Pacific drive of the Allies in the Solomons and New Guinea, American Liberators cruised for nearly three hours in the latest night raid, dropping more than 100 tons of bombs.

Some planes were set afire during the attacks on two of Rabaul's three airbases and one fire in the town could be seen 60 miles away. The raid cost us one Liberator.

In the jungle warfront on the approaches to the Japanese air base of Salamaua, New Guinea, clashes of patrols become more frequent.

Sheriffs Are Told Law Must Be Preserved

Wilkes-Barre, July 13—(P)—Pennsylvania's sheriffs, told by Governor Martin that theirs is the responsibility for peace and order in their counties regardless of measures taken by other agencies or institutions, and their convention today with election of officers.

Asserting that the commonwealth produces "one-fourth of all the critical war materials used by ourselves and our Allies," Martin told the group last night:

"We cannot afford riots or disturbances of any kind that may slow down the growing pace of production for war."

"We cannot permit violence to interfere with the forging of a single gun or the shaping of a single bayonet."

"We cannot be patient with disorder at a time when our own sons and brothers are dying x x x."

The chief executive reminded the sheriffs and deputies from 42 counties that "the stresses and strains of war are breeders of riots and disorders. A good sheriff will keep a hard, cold and alert eye on every possible trouble spot in his county."

"We are all passing through a hard and dangerous time in this country," Martin declared. "It may become harder and more dangerous before this war ends."

Axis forces which for the second time attempted to slow the American advance from the south were reported to have used tanks of French origin. The counter-attack was known to have been smashed and reports from the front said Patton's men were making "good progress."

Ragusa, where the Americans and Canadians were reported to have made their junction, has a population of 50,000 and is the capital of the province of the same name. Comiso airbase, which was pounded continually by the Allied airforce in the days preceding invasion, is only a few miles west of Ragusa and was expected to fall in a matter of hours.

Palazzolo, due west of Syracuse, is the terminus of a branch line from that port city. It has a population of about 17,000 and lies in the shadow of Mount Lauro.

Allied headquarters announced that more than 3,000 vessels of all types, including warships, now were taking part in the tremendous task of transporting men, munitions and supplies to Sicily. The work was said to be "proceeding satisfactorily," despite a surf that had made operations difficult at the more exposed positions.

Allied invasion forces have been officially designated the 15th army group and are commanded by Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, who also was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's deputy commander in the Tunisian campaign.

Effort Being Made to Cut Off Supplies of Axis Forces
On Sicily as Allies Race Forward Along
Eastern Coast of Island

MORE TOWNS OCCUPIED BY EISENHOWER'S MEN

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press War Editor

British forces striking swiftly and audaciously up the eastern coast of Sicily have captured the port of Augusta and landed near Catania halfway up the coast, while Allied forces to the south have swept into three towns to seal off virtually the entire southeastern corner of the island, Allied announcements said today.

The succession of victories came with breath-taking swiftness.

Augusta is a port 19 miles above Syracuse, captured Saturday.

Catania is the Italian bastion midway along the coast in the Allied drive to seize all that area north of Messina and close off Sicily from the mainland. Catania lies 30 miles north of Syracuse.

In rapid-fire succession, Allied headquarters announced capture of Florida, Palazzolo and Ragusa in an arc across the southeastern tip of Sicily in a tightening Allied noose.

American troops meanwhile were advancing in the west.

BY REIMAN MORIN
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 13—(P)—Allied invasion forces swept up the east coast of Sicily at a breathtaking pace today, capturing the port of Augusta, 19 miles north of Syracuse, and piling ashore on the beaches near Catania, major city nearly half-way up the coastline to Messina.

British and Canadian troops fought their way into the two strategic communications centers of Ragusa and Palazzolo in the southeastern corner of the embattled island, forming a junction with the American troops of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., at Ragusa as the latter pushed steadily northward and eastward from their original landing points.

Again the veteran American troops repelled a fierce counter-attack by Axis forces, destroying a number of enemy tanks and taking prisoners, a headquarters bulletin announced.

Palazzolo is 20 miles west of Syracuse and its capture marked the farthest point of advance inland by the invading forces. Ragusa is 12 miles southwest of Palazzolo. Both are prizes of great strategic value, being junctions for virtually all the main and secondary highways in southeastern Sicily.

Loss of the two cities will deprive defending Axis forces of much of their mobility in their desperate efforts to head off the many-pronged Allied offensive. Ragusa is in the mountains and gives the forces in possession control of the surrounding countryside.

The capture of Augusta was preceded by a heavy bombardment from Allied warships, which stood off and lobbed high explosives in the town.

Details of the new landings near Catania were not given immediately, but it was assumed they were made by units of the veteran British Eighth Army which originally attacked that side of the island.

Allied losses in the capture of Augusta were officially described as slight. Port and harbor installations were said to have been undamaged.

General Achilles Davet, commander of the 206th Italian coastal division, was the first ranking enemy officer to be captured since the invasion of Sicily began last Saturday.

Some German opposition has been met, but not yet in force, and though the Allies have not made contact with two regular Italian divisions—presumably of much sterner character than the coastal defenders—the enemy has failed to put up really stiff resistance, Allied officers said.

Pilot of Allied bombers participating in the furious aerial onslaught against Axis targets throughout Sicily reported that the Sicilian Straits still were choked with transport and supply ships carrying reinforcements to the British, American and Canadian forces which spearheaded the invasion.

Axis forces which for the second time attempted to slow the American advance from the south were reported to have used tanks of French origin. The counter-attack was known to have been smashed and reports from the front said Patton's men were making "good progress."

Ragusa, where the Americans and Canadians were reported to have made their junction, has a population of 50,000 and is the capital of the province of the same name. BULLETINS

A German communique, broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by The Associated Press, asserted today that German long distance bombers yesterday sank an Allied transport in the Atlantic which had been set adrift the day before. A second transport claimed to have been hit in Sunday's operations had meanwhile foundered, the communique said. The two ships, it was added, totaled 30,000 tons. There was no Allied confirmation of the report.

London, July 13—(P)—A foreign diplomatic source who usually is reliable asserted today that Adolf Hitler was reported to have assumed control of the German offensive in the Kursk Bulge and broadcast it into an expensive gamble for a break-through, against the advice of his generals.

Albiquerra, Pa., July 13—(P)—Sixty-six street and sanitation employees of this Beaver county borough of 28,000 who have been idle through a week-long strike for wage increases and union recognition were dismissed by the borough council last night.

Washington, July 13—(P)—Indictment of the Sullivan Dry Dock and Repair Corporation of Brooklyn and five officers and employees on charges of fraud and submitting false claims in the building and repairing of ships for the navy and maritime commission was announced today by Attorney General Biddle.

Washington, July 13—(P)—Secretary Ickes, acting to "relieve the growing paralysis of the steel industry due to coal mine strikes in western Pennsylvania," has ordered 135,000 tons of coal diverted to steel plants.

Elgin Field, Fla., July 13—(P)—Two officers and 15 enlisted men were killed at this army air base yesterday by an accidental explosion, public relations reported today. Fifty-one others were injured. The extent of their injuries was not disclosed but most were believed to have escaped with minor hurts.

GRANGE NEWS

WARREN GRANGE

Group singing and the national anthem opened the regular meeting of Warren Grange, held in I. O. O. F. hall. Routine business was followed by initiation in the first and second degrees.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by the committee and shuffleboard was enjoyed. Appointed as committee for the next meeting, July 21, were Mrs. Olsson, Henry Hoffman and Mrs. King. The third and fourth degrees will be exemplified at the time.

FARMINGTON UNIT

Mrs. Jennie Lyon, worthy master, was in charge of the regular meeting of Farmington Grange, with Mrs. Lynn Burgett acting as steward and Rose Mary Wilcox as chaplain. The topic of group hospitalization was discussed and the secretary was instructed to inquire for more information before the next meeting, when further action will be taken. Margaret Day gave an excellent report of her trip to the lecturer's conference at State College.

The program consisted of group singing of "God Bless America", a kitchen contest won by Alene Burgett and a spelling match won by Margaret W. Wilcox. The closing was in ritual form, with all singing "Softly Now the Light of Day."

At the next meeting, July 22, there will be initiation in the third and fourth degrees.

BPW Members Hear About Salvage Project And Learn of Plans For Coming Activities

Announcement of standing committees for the new year's work and further discussion of plans for its new salvage project, "Doodads for Defense," occupied attention of the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club at its business meeting held in the YWCA parlors Monday evening.

Louise Neilly, president, opened the session with recital of the club Collect and called for routine reports from Elizabeth Brasington, secretary, and Inez Leake, treasurer. Among several communications read was one from the ten girls at the Hoffman Children's Home who enjoyed the recent ten-day YWCA stay-at-home-summer camp through the club's gift.

Confirming the action of the executive committee, the full membership accepted the task of collecting costume jewelry asked by the County Defense Council for shipment to boys overseas for use as barter. Collection boxes will be placed within a few days and the collection will get under way in charge of the publicity committee, which is headed by Katherine Bauer.

After some discussion concerning the postponed birthday party of the club, it was decided this would be held on Wednesday, August 11, with members privileged to bring guests. Cancellations of reservations are to be made with Doris Peterson, 1420-M, no later than August 6.

Miss Neilly spoke briefly of the recent state convention in Pittsburgh, bringing some financing and service program ideas, and it was voted to investigate location of Warren county boys being hospitalized as the result of action in the current war. MayBelle Bairstow took this project in charge.

The president then announced the following committee to serve for the new year: Program coordinator—Ruth Karr, chairman; Hazel Keller, Elizabeth Lopez, Martha Fuhrer. Membership—Ellen Thoreson, chairman; A. Calie Mead, Edna Thompson, Corinne Dean. Finance—Eunice Alexander, chairman; Doris Peterson, Alice Pearson, Inez Leake. Publicity—Katherine Bauer, chairman; Evelyn Wolstencroft, Effie Peterson, Ruth Woodin, Margaret Miller, Health—Margaret Horan, chairman; Nora Eaton, Mildred VanSickle, Elizabeth Brasington. Public Affairs—Ruth Fenderson, chairman; Eva Blackman, Ruth Fobes, Emma Akins, Blanche West. Education—Violet Peterson, chairman; Lauretta Dunkle, Mayme Marsh, Edith Erickson, Viola Flowers. International relations—MayBelle Bairstow, chairman; Margaret Elliott, Blanche Alexander, Margaret Drivas, Elizabeth VanLuvancee. Legislation—Ethel Baldensperger, chairman; Flora Blair, Montana Knapp, Elsa Shellburg, Mina Reider. Defense—Ethel Patchen, chairman; Margaret Holmes, Charlotte Stoke, Alice Nicholson, Katherine Ekey.

To conclude, Miss Neilly paid brief tribute to a recently deceased member, Mabel E. Nelson, and Mrs. Blanche West offered prayer in her memory.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN HAVE NEW MEMBERS

The monthly business and social meeting of the Warren County Federation of Democratic Women, held last evening in home of Miss Carrie Miller, 13 North Carver St., was well attended and six new members were reported. The sum of $5 was voted for the new Democratic headquarters in Harrisburg.

The next meeting will be in the form of a picnic at the home of Mrs. Raymond Sampson, 124 Beatty street, Monday, August 2, at 6 p. m.

MRS. MARY PETER HAS 71ST ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Mary Peter, 4 Pennsylvania avenue, west, observed her 71st birthday anniversary on Monday, enjoying the visits of many callers from her former home in North Warren; also many greetings in the form of cards and calls and a supper in the company of a group of friends.

Velocipedes at one time were called "swift walkers."

Personal Paragraphs

Reports from the family here today indicate there is no change in the condition of Hiram Hesch, Youngstown, O., brakeman on the Erie Railroad, and that he is still critically ill in St. Elizabeth's hospital in that city as the result of injuries received Friday evening when he was thrown beneath a moving train in the railroad yards.

Mrs. Georgie Russell, of St. Petersburg, Fla., arrived last evening to be a guest at the home of Mrs. Earl Fenderson, 409 Liberty street.

Miss Gladys Gray, 12 Maple Place, North Warren, is home after spending the past weekend in Pittsburgh.

Friends of Miss Martha Tickner, of Westfield, N. Y., formerly of Warren, will be interested to know that she is recovering from an appendectomy performed yesterday in Jamestown General Hospital.

Mrs. Marjorie Dougherty, city clerk, has returned from a vacation trip recuperating from a recent operation undergone at the Warren General Hospital.

Mrs. M. E. Conti and daughter, Suzette, have arrived from Boston, Mass., and will visit the former's mother, Mrs. Mary Corah, Union street, while Lt. Cmdr. Conti is on active sea duty.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Burke and son, Jimmy, of Washington, D. C., are guests of relatives and friends in Warren and North Warren for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Fillmore and small daughter, of Chicago, left Monday for home after spending a fortnight with Mrs. Fillmore's mother, Mrs. Nellie Birchard, of the Warren-Kinzua road. James and Billy Stevenson, of North Warren are guests of Mrs. Birchard.

Boy Scouts Will Hike To Camp Olmsted Wednesday

The summer season for Camp Olmsted, the training camp of the Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America, opens Wednesday, July 14, according to B. W. Knapp, chairman of the camping and activities committee. The camp staff and a group of older Scouts have been in camp for the past week doing the clean-up and repair work necessary to put the camp in first-class order for the arrival of the Scouts.

Mr. Knapp further explained that all of the waterfront equipment has now been rebuilt and replaced, as he recalled the flash-flood that took most of this equipment down the river during the middle of last July.

In keeping with the spirit of the times and the restrictions in pleasure driving, the Scouts are planning to gather Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at Beatty school to cover the distance on foot or on bicycles. It is expected that Scouts of the First Presbyterian church troop, No. 4, the First Methodist church troop, No. 9, and the Tidoute P. T. A. troop, No. 27, will assemble at this point to start their "pilgrimage" to camp. Troop No. 50 of Ludlow will come over the hill, arriving on the east bank of the Allegheny opposite camp. At this point they will be ferried across the river in rowboats and canoes.

The members of the camp staff who have been in camp for the past week are as follows: Robert N. Jewell, director; Merlin Kelsey, aquatic director; Leon Christian, program director; Gail Barker, woodcraft director; Leland Daye, quartermaster; Miss Viola Flowers, health director; Mrs. Amanda Grindley, cook, and Jay White, assistant cook. The older Scouts who have been in camp to assist are: John F. Knapp, John Robertson, William Clinger, Joseph Waller, Tom Hampson, Donald White, Lytle Rapp, all of Troop No. 4; William Yeager, Troop No. 12; Bill Houston, Troop No. 1.

Conference Promises To Be Of Value

Non-protective phases of Civilian Defense, including Salvage, Victory Gardens, Volunteer Offices, Child Care, Speakers Bureaus, and Consumer Interests, will be discussed at a nine-county conference in the court house at Warren on Thursday, July 15.

The conference, called by Mrs. Worthington Scranton, commander of Civilian War Services for the State Council of Defense, will be attended by chairmen of county and local Councils of Defense and the head of their non-protective committees.

Counties taking part in the meeting will be Erie, Crawford, Mercer, Venango, Warren, McKean, Forest, Clarion and Elk. Similar conferences already have been held in Harrisburg and Pittsburgh and others are scheduled in the remaining areas of the state during late July and August.

The various branches of Civilian Defense not related to air raid protection have been growing steadily in importance," said Mrs. Scranton. "We hope in our series of conferences to further strengthen and coordinate these efforts."

State Council of Defense leaders who will speak at the conference include: Mrs. Scranton; Mrs. E. A. Van Valkenburg, director of Civilian Defense Volunteer Offices; Dr. Warren B. Mack, executive secretary; Victory Garden committee; Mrs. Conway Zirkle, chairman, committee on Consumer Interests; Mrs. Benjamin Ludlow, director, Bureau of Child Care; Mrs. Jean L. Doverspike, director of Speakers Bureau; Colley S. Baker, executive secretary, Salvage Committee; Norman Howard, director of Absenteeism Study; Mrs. Walter Spofford, liaison representative from Third Civilian Defense Region; and Miss Cecile Kennedy, liaison representative from American Red Cross.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Ralph L. Looker, who owns a lease on the Warren Kinzua road and whose grandfather will be remembered as one of the old-time river pilots of this section, announces in an advertisement in another page of this issue that he is a candidate for nomination to the office of sheriff of Warren county, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the September 14 primary election.

CYCLISTS INJURED

A collision between a bicycle ridden by Clair Richards, 15, of Youngsville, and an automobile driven by Laurel E. Schuler, of Yankee Bush, resulted in a sprained knee and body bruises for the former. The accident took place about 8:35 p. m. Saturday near Starbuck, according to Pennsylvania State Police who are investigating. Prosecution in the case is held in abeyance until further details have been learned by the officers.

OPPORTUNITY FOR GIRLS

David Levine, of the Federal Employment Office, requests that an appeal be made for girls between 21 and 25 years of age. He has a most excellent opportunity for them. The girls are to be sent to Cleveland to be trained in doing a special work, and transportation, room and some other expenses will be given attention, in addition to good wages. When trained, the girls will become supervisors of other girls in a plant and the opportunity is one that arises only once in a long, long time. Mr. Levine urges that girls get their applications in as soon as possible.

STUDENTS ENROLLING

Students from this county are enrolling for the Freshman year at State College. So far there have been 450 enrollments at the college and among them are: Karl K. Mahaffey, R. D. 1 and John E. Seavy, Clarion, both in engineering course; Walter E. Wheelock, Russell RD 2 Agricultural Economics; Richard J. Sanders, RD 4 Sugar Grove, Agricultural Education; Terrell L. Ruhman, Warren, Chemical Engineering; Barbara A. Engstrom, and Barbara Knapp, Youngsville, both in Home Economics.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

For the second successive Sunday it was necessary to move the community outdoor worship service indoors because of rain and a large audience assembled in First Lutheran church to hear the sermon by Rev. A. Sennwald, pastor of Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church. The women's chorus of the church provided the special music. Speaker for next week's service will be Rev. Carl E. Anderson, of Jamestown, N. Y., acting pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, with music by St. Paul's choir. It is stated that definite announcement will be made in Friday's issue concerning the place of the Sunday service.

of your ration book

Now is the time to do it!

Yes, the flood of vegetables and fruits is on! This is the time to make full use of your efficient Gas range. Use it to home-can all the fruits and vegetables you possibly can get—whether you grow or buy them. For this will tide your family through next fall and winter in spite of rationing.

The whole country is aroused to the need for maintaining balanced diets for families despite shortages of certain foods. Home-canning seems to be the answer, regardless of which method you use.

Ask your Gas company's Home Service Department for any information you need. By the way, you'll want a copy of its new booklet on home-canning, drying and storage of fruits and vegetables. It's complete, practical, helpful.

"FIRST STAGE OF LIBERATION"

(By DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press War Analyst)

As the first smoke of the great battle of Sicily begins to lift we can see that what really matters is that at long last the Allies have flung themselves boldly into what Commander-in-Chief Eisenhower describes as "the first stage in the liberation of the European continent"—an objective which the tense Germans characterized as the biggest enterprise in history.

Sicily is the first stride in our new seven league boots. Beyond that craggy island lie vast reaches of strongly held enemy territory. History records nothing like the amphibious operations which we must carry out in order to achieve our goal.

The invasion which was inaugurated in the early hours Saturday, when finely-trained American-Canadian-English troops stormed their way onto the rocky shores of Sicily in the face of blazing resistance, marks the grand opening of the crucial period of the Hitlerian conflict. A few weeks from now we may know pretty well how long it's going to take to smash the Nazi fuhrer.

Mind you, while this inaugurates the continental offensive in a general sense, we shouldn't jump to the conclusion that the Allies are going to race from Sicily to the bigger phases immediately. There may be some other tidying up operations among the Mediterranean islands first. We aren't like to clamber aboard the continent tomorrow.

Still, the conquest of powerfully held Sicily will in itself be a major triumph. This is a moment of exultation, though I think we shouldn't let this make us overlook that our joy is likely to be tempered with some tears. The job is going to be costly, you know.

General Eisenhower told a press conference in North Africa in June that the Allies might be "riding for a bloody nose," but he thought the job could be done. Early reports indicated that the invasion forces were encountering heavy resistance.

Sicily had been surrounded by mine fields, submarines lurked all about it, and strong coastal batteries had been set up to meet the impending invasion. Last night heavy German and Italian reinforcements were rushed from the mainland to the island. It was no boy's job which the Allied men tackled as they raced ashore from their barges and clambered over the terrorizing barbed wire in the face of heavy fire.

Still, they are as fit and well prepared for their bloody task as any men could be. Many of them—perhaps all—are either commando-trained or have undergone a similar fierce preparation over a long period. The Canadians, for instance, have been undergoing intensive training for invasion for three years.

LEARNING TO TRAVEL

"When I get my feet planted in the old home town, you won't see me doing any more traveling," say most of the Americans who have been sent all over the world to fight this global war. But an awful lot of them, having realized how much there is to the world, are going to want to see it again as civilians.

The more adventurous, who will hit for African deserts or sub-Arctic snows, will do well to tuck away copies of the Army's two guidebooks, "Jungle and Desert Emergencies" and "Arctic Emergencies." The latter, second in the series, is filled with such useful information as the fact that polar bears' livers are poisonous, a diet of rabbit will lead to death through "rabbit starvation," but seal hearts and kidneys and broiled reindeer moss are edible.

HOME ECONOMICS FOR BOYS

Milady shouldn't be surprised after the war when a man manures her nails, applies a mudpack, or demonstrates how to prepare her meals and decorate her home.

The turnabout will result because many women will remain in industry after the war is over, John McCarthy, New Jersey state director of vocational education, told education specialists who met at the Pennsylvania State College. This means, he said, that men must be trained for jobs which formerly belonged traditionally to women—homemaking and beauty shop work, for example.

Toward that new day, vocational education experts advocated home economics courses for boys as well as for girls.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

For the righteous Lord loveth righteousness; his countenance doth behold the upright.—Psalms 11:7.

The German way is the discipline of faith; ours is the discipline of faith—and faith will triumph.—General Joffre.

Washington In Wartime

(Second of two articles on implications of Wallace-Jones feud.)

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—If the "Good Neighbor Policy" is ever unified and placed under one head, it undoubtedly will have the backing of both political parties and either Democrats or Republicans could pick a man of experience now in the government to head it.

As Vice President Henry A. Wallace recently pointed out, the "Good Neighbor Policy" was started under President Hoover's Republican administration. It has been, however, a chick mostly of New Deal hatching.

Wallace, himself, has ruffled his feathers whenever it has been threatened and there is more than passing suspicion here that RNC Director Jesse Jones' activities below the border have been the chief cause of the Wallace-Jones scrap.

UNTIL now, Wallace, considered an unlikely running mate again if the President chooses to enter the dash for a fourth term, has been tagged as the only real candidate for (1) head of a new overall Latin-American affairs bureau or department, or (2) roving ambassador to all of sister republics in this hemisphere. Whether this latest ruckus in the administration ranks will damage or strengthen his chances for that post depends on the outcome.

If it has, or if the Republicans should take over, there still is young Nelson A. Rockefeller, coordinator of the Office of Inter-

American Affairs. Rockefeller has never had much truck with definite political party alignments, but his family is as traditionally Republican as it is Baptist.

When Rockefeller was called in by the President to take over the "cultural and educational phases" of the good neighbor policy, he wasn't taken very seriously in political, diplomatic, or Latin American circles.

ROCKEFELLER and his CIAA office have made a few errors but they have been the errors of enthusiasm, youth and inexperience. Aside from a few grumpy remarks tossed in that direction in the early days by the bewhiskered State Department, the young man from Manhattan and his agency have never had any row with anybody—not even Congress—and that, in these times, is a record for the record.

The trouble with Latin American relations today is mostly one of overlapping agencies and although it has never been aired, it is no secret in those agencies having anything to do with it that nearly all the complaints coming from the Rio Grande to Cape Horn have been that too many cooks were cooling the soup.

When nine government agencies get to operating in one field, it's likely to be plowed under before it's plowed up. That's why observers here are arguing that the unification of all bureaus dealing with Latin-American affairs is a certainty—by legislative action—if the President doesn't beat Congress to it.

Stamp News

THE Aleutian Islands are pictured on two values of a set of four stamps issued by Soviet Russia to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the death of Vitus Bering, discoverer of the sea which bears his name and separates the continents of North America and Asia.

Although Bering died in December, 1741, the stamps were not issued until April of this year and have just reached this country. The 30 kopek, a chalky blue in color, pictures a two-masted sailing vessel of the type used by Bering and in the background is St. Elias mountain in Alaska which Bering sighted on one of his two voyages. The slate green 60 kopek, illustrated here, pictures the sailing vessel against a background of a map showing the location of the Bering Sea and the route taken by Bering in his voyages. A one ruble yellow green is the same design as the 30 kopek while the map scene is portrayed on the two ruble brown.

DENMARK has been added to the list of Axis-occupied countries being honored by United States commemorative stamps, thus increasing the number of stamps to be issued from 11 to 12. Postmaster General Walker has announced.

At the same time, Walker announced that the third stamp of the series, honoring Norway, will be placed on sale for the first time July 27 at the Washington post office. The stamp will be the same general design as the first two.

SERMONS TO CARTRIDGES

Pressed wood is being used to make refrigerators, saving more than 100 pounds of steel per unit.

honoring Poland and Czechoslovakia, except for the substitution of the flag of Norway with its colors of red, white and blue and the name of the country in the center of the stamp. Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send a maximum of 10 self-addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Washington 13, D. C., with cash or money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps.

THE first copies of Switzerland's 1942 Pro Juventute (For Youth) semi-postal anti-tuberculosis stamps, which were issued last December, recently reached this country. Girls' heads with typical native hats appear on the 10c plus 5c brown and the 20c plus 5c orange while the others introduce two newcomers to philately's gallery, Nikolaus (Nicholas) Riggensbach appearing on the 5c plus 5c green and Konrad Escher von der Linth on the blue 30c plus 10c.

Riggensbach was a Swiss engineer who built the first locomotive in continental Europe and devised the plans for the rail-and-pipeline railroads which ascend the Swiss mountains at as much as 57 degrees climbs. Von der Linth originally was named plain Konrad Escher and was a Zurich businessman, politician, newspaper publisher and scientist. He was responsible for a series of dikes and canals which control the turbulent Linth river.

Sale of the Pro Juventute stamps ended December 31 but they remained valid for postage through May 31 of this year.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1923

A delegation of Porkey folk were in Sheffield on July 4th and all are enthusiastic over the celebration there. Due to the train being delayed in getting to Sheffield a number missed the parade but those who saw it claim it was the best ever held in the town. The rest of the program was in harmony with the parade and was delightful.

Reports from the farming districts of the country are to the effect that the oats crop this year is decidedly short and there will not be a full crop.

Sam Rollins took ten fine bass from the Conewago creek this week. They were the finest string of fish to be seen here this year.

The Lester Shoe Company has just completed the remodeling of their basement and entrance to their store and it is one of the most convenient business places in the city.

This will be the first year since the track at the fair grounds was constructed on the East Side that there will be no horse races held. Not enough interest was shown to bring a Lake Shore Circuit meeting to Warren.

In 1933

The Veterans of Foreign Wars band will give a concert next Monday evening on the grounds of the Central School and an ice cream social will be held in conjunction with the concert.

Gene Fox and Gene Hedges, two leads of the East Side went fishing yesterday. They fished all the favorite holes and caught one ten inch fish. Becoming discouraged they started home when a bass hopped out of the water and it the side of their boat and then another leaped clean into the boat. This fish was 16 inches in length.

"Tip" Lesser, who has been a patient at the Kane Community Hospital arrived home last evening and is being warmly received by his many friends.

Plans for the Tidoulet bridge opening are being formulated and it promises to be a delightful affair. Invitations have been extended to Sam Lewis, secretary of Highways and also to T. C. Frame, of the engineering department of the highway department.

Honus Wagner will umpire the ball game at Jamestown tomorrow afternoon and a big delegation from this city will be in attendance.

HIS 1943 VACATION...

48 HOURS!

Just as long as a week-end pass.

That's all many of the boys get these days.

Not time enough for a few rounds of golf... or to flock a fly on a trout stream... or to loll on a beach.

For him, all that went out when the war came in.

Now, his vacation can be measured by the tick of a watch... just time enough for one of Mother's dinners... a long chat with Dad... a good night's sleep in his own bed... a glance at the Sunday morning paper... and back to camp.

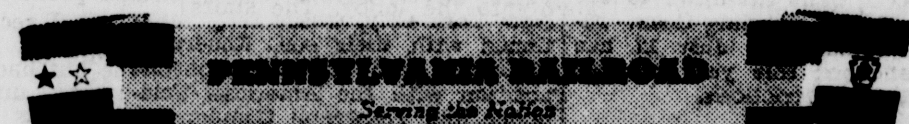

Please think of that young man when you plan YOUR vacation.

If you are going away for two weeks, start your vacation Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, so there will be seats and berths on week-end trains for him and his buddies. Try to time your travel to accommodate him!

You may not realize it, but right now more than 15 per cent of the total passenger traffic on the Pennsylvania Railroad is Service men traveling on leave. And most of it is over week-ends.

So please do your best to time your travel so that it doesn't interfere with theirs!

It's Cards vs. McCarthy's Secret for All-Star Ball Game

MURDER IN TIN

By CARL A. PETERSON

YESTERDAY: John Calder gets a room next to Lila Taggard's and overhears her having a heated argument with a stranger. Suddenly Calder is surprised to hear Lila calling for him. He goes to her room and orders the stranger to leave, but immediately realizes he is in danger.

Chapter 3

THE grey-eyed man didn't act as if he were a visitor in Taggard's daughter's room but as if we were visiting him.

"You better leave," I was more confused than ever. This man knew then where she had come from. I wondered how much more he knew and what were his motives. That made two sets of motives to figure out, those of Sam Taggard's daughter and those of her visitor. I looked at her thin-cheeked face and I had the foolish notion that she seemed as if she had stepped out of the Rivera reproduction which, in her room, was directly above the desk. My notion was not only foolish, but crude in its romanticism.

"I want to thank you," she said. "He hasn't left yet," I reminded her. "But I'm glad to make your acquaintance."

"You do not know Miss Taggard?" her visitor asked. "Mister Calder, this is Miss Taggard and I," he nodded. "I am Senor Francisco Mirtilo if you have forgotten."

"Forgotten?" I said. "I've never seen you before."

"No, I have not seen you. But the lady told you. Si?"

"Tell me what?"

He wasn't bothering with me now. He was shaking his forefinger at her and his face was white. "Not you! Not your father! Who will cheat me? Who invests? Who? Who? The mine—the mine. The mine—He choked and his eyes seemed smaller than ever. Furiously, he nodded as if to say: It belongs to me! and then he hurried towards the door.

"Where is my father?" she cried after him.

He wheeled around as if she had slapped him.

SHE was rubbing one clenched fist along the cutting edges of her teeth. It was like staring at a photograph enlarged to life-size, a photograph captioned: Innocent American girl in trouble away from home.

The caption for Francisco Mirtilo was equally simple. His hatred was real enough. His sunken cheeks were no cheeks at all now. His face was all hollows and angles. He glowered at her and then rushed out of the room. And I was thinking that it was a nice puzzle I had stepped into or rather had been invited into. The key piece, Sam Taggard was still missing. This Francisco Mirtilo, how did he fit into the picture? Fall hadn't mentioned any Mirtilo to me.

There was the possibility that Mirtilo had described himself accurately, as another one of Sam Taggard's backers, backer being accurately translated to mean sucker. Sam Taggard had left a trail of gold bricks all over Latin America and Mirtilo might be one of them.

"Thank you so much, Mr. Calder," she said, smiling and waiting for me to go. I walked to the door and glanced back. Her brown eyes told me exactly nothing. She had control of herself, the precision of a fine machine, and I found myself admiring her just a little.

"Perhaps, dinner some time?" I said.

"Perhaps."

I LEFT her room and walked over to the elevator. The cables were in motion; Mirtilo in the cage on his way down. I reflected that I could phone Fall and have him check on Mirtilo, or try to pick up something myself.

I took the stairs two at a time down into the lobby. The stairs at the Hotel Famoso terminate in the rear of a elevator behind an ornamental screen. I paused behind the screen and peered around its edge. Mirtilo was approaching the door opening on San Juan de Letran.

I hesitated a second, but the urge to action, any action, was too strong for me to resist. I hadn't come all the way from the Bolivian workings to wait for the Taggard tin to fall into my briefcase.

I crossed the lobby. The desk man grinned at me, that polite little grin that is standard equipment for all hotel desk men. "Buenos," I said to that grin as I waited for Mirtilo to pass through the door.

Outside, the autos were honking in the gutter; on the sidewalk, the peddlers were selling their hand-cooled leather cigar-cases, their pottery, their paper-bound Spanish translations of Monte Cristo; a street cartoonist was sketching the profile of a tall American tourist with blond hair. And Mirtilo was walking fast about ten yards ahead of me.

The sensation that I was behaving in an unrealistic manner returned once more, but it didn't last long. Finally, I thought that maybe gumshoe work wasn't my line, but what of it. I wasn't the only American in a new wartime occupation.

ASHAWLED Mexican woman held up a blue strip of lottery tickets under my nose. I shook my head and kept walking down San Juan de Letran after Mirtilo. This job of hunt-and-chase was exciting. Anyhow, there is always excitement in Mexico City in the early evening when the siestas are over and the big mid-day dinners digested and the night is switched on like a button being pressed by a giant mechanized finger.

I pursued Mirtilo to the Avenida Juarez, into the throng of strangers. He paused at the corner waiting for the traffic to stop. I took another look at his grey sunken profile. He had the sharp lips and chin of a man who had usually gotten what he had wanted. He was just the type that a super-shark like Sam Taggard would promote.

Again I recalled that Fall, not only hadn't mentioned Mirtilo to me but had warned me not to take any unnecessary chances. But there is no standard definition of "unnecessary chances." All I knew was that my head was whirling. I kept thinking that Taggard's daughter had promised to have dinner with me. I felt dizzy, and dizzily I chased after Mirtilo.

All Signs Point To Sell-Out Crowd at Shibe Park Tonight With Gate of About $70,000

BY SID FEDER

Philadelphia, July 13—(P)—They're putting on baseball's all-star "midsummer night's dream game" tonight, but the way it shapes up, it looks like the St. Louis Cardinals against a "military secret" from the American League.

The National League boss, Billy the Kid Southworth, is going to "stand or get flattened" with a powerhouse starting set headed by five members of his World Champion Cardinals' cast, including his right-hand rifle-batter, Mort Cooper. But the only thing the junior circuit campaigners appear at all sure about is that the game will be played at Shibe Park at 9 p. m. (E.W.T.).

It's going to be quite a taffy pull, too, because for the first time in the 11-year history of this inter-league lawn party, the S. R. O. sign will be out. All signs now point to a sell-out of some $30,000 cash customers and a gate of about $70,000 for the bat and ball fund.

Of course, by the time all the noses are counted, even McCarthy will know who's going to start for the American League. But when he announced his lineup, he not only didn't know his starting eleven—although the general guess was that it would be Ernie (Tiny) Bonham of the Yankees—but he was also at a loss about his catcher, and the only thing definite about

Corry Plays Forgers Here Thursday Nite

Local fans who have been itching to see the Corry team that took over the Forgers once and then a severe scare into them in the second game will get the chance Thursday evening. The Corry team will come here for a meeting with the Forgers on the State Hospital grounds Thursday at 6:15.

You can tell your Aunt Minnie that it is going to be a good game. The Forgers are smarting from that wallop they took in the opener at Corry last Sunday, when they performed a batch of errors, etc., in letting Corry get eight runs. Wow! They will be out for revenge. And the Corry boys? Well, folks, they just don't like that second game at Corry and they want to make it a two-to-one count in the meeting here.

So, it's gonna be a game, and if you want to see some baseball, get out Thursday evening.

But the game next Sunday with the St. Marys Colts will be the one to get set for. This will be a booster game and will tell the story as to whether the fans want baseball or ping pong at home in the shade of the old apple tree. Forgers are willing to give their best efforts to provide sport if the fans really want it, and next Sunday the votes will cost 50 cents, and here's hoping the ballot box is stuffed with those half dollar tickets in such a splendid way that baseball will be continued until the snow balls fly.

SOUTH STREETERS WIN GAME SUNDAY

In a game played on the Beatty Field diamond Sunday the South Street nine took over the South Side outfit by a score of 7 to 3. The South Street Redcaps were just a little too hot for the South Siders and Massa, Peterson and Reed took the batting honors for the Redcaps, while Scott was top man for the losers. Peterson did the twirling for the victors, while Smith and Juliano were on the mound for the South Siders.

Zivic Proves He Can Still Pack Wallop

Pittsburgh, July 13—(P)—He's 30 years old and his legs aren't the tireless legs they were when he wore the welterweight crown, but Fritz Zivic is still in there fighting and he isn't far from the top of the class.

He proved it last night in ten rounds of superb boxing with 20-year-old Joltin' Jake Lamotta, the only man to beat Ray "Sugar" Robinson, though the Brooklyn boy came back hard enough in the last five rounds to win the backing of one judge.

"It was a tougher fight than the first one," admitted Zivic, who lost a split decision to Lamotta in the same Forbes Field ring last June 10, "but I feel sure I was ahead all the time."

And the crowd of 15,562, who paid $46,018, agreed that he was as kept Lamotta, who outweighed him by six and one-half pounds, at the painful end of a tantalizing left jab.

But Lamotta's youth began to tell when the fight was two-thirds over. Fritz lacked the strength to withstand the younger man's bull-like rushes, although he saved power enough for the final three minutes to get the nod of Referee Ernie Sesto.

Revenge was sweet to Zivic.

Major League Directors Are Meeting With Landis Today

Philadelphia, July 13—(P)—the senior circuit disposed of yesterday's request for more night games at Washington—which ought to give the Senators the sensation of playing in a coal mine—came up for consideration today as the American and National League directors prepared to meet with Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

While the National League did not announce its decision on the proposal yesterday, sentiment in both leagues was reported favorable to Griffith's proposal, with the possibility that the number of games might be left up to Landis.

The Senators already have 21 home games after sundown, seven more than any other team in either circuit.

Before the joint meeting, American League directors are scheduled to meet—without, so far as could be learned, such problems as who was incredulous when, after 13 years of campaigning, he lost the June decision. The crowd—many members of which took part in the booing that greeted the earlier verdict—accepted last night's decision as a vindication of the home-town boy.

Employers Must Return Form Soon

David W. Levine, Manager of the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission has received the following instructions:

All contributing employers under the Unemployment Compensation Law of Pennsylvania are being urged to return to the Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation in Harrisburg, the form BEUC 634a, with which they were recently supplied, either on or before July 26, 1943.

It is being pointed out that in order to protect their rights under the "Experience Rating Act" and in order to secure the "Statement of Claimants' Experience" which will enable the employer to complete his claim for this credit, the form BEUC 634a must be returned to the Bureau by that date.

This form BEUC 634a was recently mailed by the Bureau to every employer covered by the Unemployment Compensation Law along with instructions explaining how reemployment credit under the Experience Rating Act may be secured.

The Experience Rating amendment to the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law, passed by the 1943 session of the Legislature, became effective on May 26, of this year.

Under this amendment an employer will make contributions beginning with 1944, at a rate based in part upon the extent to which his former employees have received unemployment compensation.

Under the new Act when an employer is paid unemployment compensation, the wages used in determining his amount of compensation are considered as "benefit wages". These benefit wages are charged to the experience rating account of his employer and affect the contribution rate of the employer.

Employers who rehire their former employees after they have become claimants for unemployment compensation, may be entitled to a reduction in the amount of benefit wages which have been charged to their account. This reduction is secured by receiving "Credit for Reemployment".

The filing of form BEUC 634a is the first step in securing reemployment credit. If it is delayed beyond July 26, the employer will lose his rights to this credit under the Act.

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

Youngville, July 12—Local people are finding Island Park a fine place for picnics and it is within walking distance of many. Last week the Youngville Fire Company used the Park for a Fish Fry.

Thursday evening three church groups held evening picnic meetings, namely the Methodist Brotherhood and the Dorcas Club and families united for picnic meeting with a 7 p. m. dinner followed by a program of songs under the leadership of Mrs. Crandall and Mrs. Jack; a very interesting quiz on past history of Youngville was conducted by William Clark. Cadet Warren Husted home on a short furlough from Georgia Tech. Atlanta gave a talk on army life in technical microscopic and chemical engineering courses. He also described some of the interesting sights about Atlanta, Ga.

The Luther League of the Lutheran church also had a bountiful picnic supper followed by spots. (Turn to Page Six)

from American-Made Rubber

...and it has General's famous Top-Quality!

● Here's the tire everyone knew American engineering genius would produce. A tire... bearing the name General... built of American-Made rubber!

In this new tire is all the knowledge gained by General's production specialists and research engineers in a quarter century of building only Top-Quality tires... all their knowledge of getting the most out of rubber.

GENERAL TIRE

It has General's famous Silent Grip tread design. It has General's same, extra-strong cord body and it has American-Made rubber processed by the same craftsmen who gave you General's quality in the past!

Of course, the rubber crisis isn't over yet. The supply of these new Generals is limited... but, perhaps you are eligible to buy.

Anyway, come in and see the new kind of Top-Quality Tire General is turning out to help solve America's rubber problem!

Many Judges To Be Chosen At Election Held This Fall

Harrisburg, July 13—(AP)—Pennsylvania voters will nominate and elect 47 county judges, in addition to one superior court judge, at this year's municipal primary election.

The primary will be held on September 14 and the election on November 2.

Retail sale of beer and liquor also is open to a local option vote in communities which have not passed upon that question for four years but citizens in a given community must take the initiative through filing a petition for it with the county commissioners not later than 60 days before the primary. This Friday, June 15, is the deadline for filing.

The petition must contain the signatures of voters representing 25 per cent of the highest vote cast for any candidate at the 1942 general election. Separate referenda may be held on retail beer and liquor sales.

A mayor will be nominated and elected in Philadelphia and 27 third class cities in addition to various other county, city, borough and township officials. Each county will choose some officials.

Candidates for the judiciary may run at the primary on more than one ticket, the only class of candidates exempt from the commonwealth's anti-party raiding law.

For the superior court, the Republican organization has endorsed Judge Claude T. Reno for a full ten-year term to the $18,000 post. The Democratic state committee has endorsed Judge Curtis Bok, of Philadelphia, common pleas court. Judge Reno was appointed to the court by former governor Arthur H. James to fill a vacancy.

Other judicial posts up at this year's primary and election, and the incumbents are:

Turin Pounded

By RAF in Heavy

Raid Monday

(From Page One)

Fighters and fighter-bombers attacked Belgium and other ground targets in France, Holland and Belgium while the Turin raiders were engaged in the long-range operation.

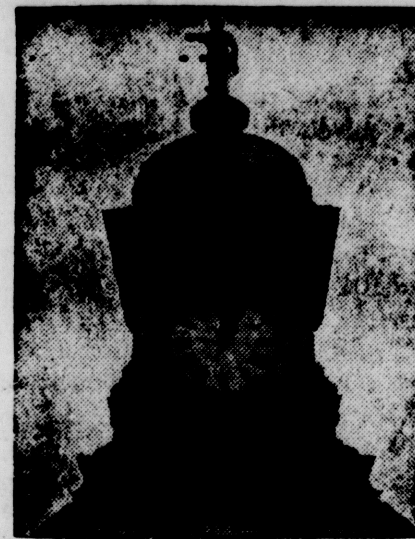

The raid was described authoritatively as "part of the combined operations now going on in the Mediterranean."

Turin has been raided 28 times since the start of the war, the last time being the night of Feb. 4. School from having their annual picnic as they had planned. Tables were placed in the new garage of C. F. Norbeck, and fifty five persons enjoyed the picnic.

The July meeting of the Sugar Grove Child Health Center will meet as usual at 2:30 in the home economics house. Toxin anti Toxin will be given on request.

The Try Company Class will have a picnic meeting at the home of Mrs. Verabelle Pfirsch Tuesday, July 20, one week later than the usual date.

WEDNESDAY

The old clock on the Court House tower, surmounted by Blind Justice with her Scales, has been striking the hours for Warren folk for sixty-seven years. The Court House was dedicated on July 4, 1876, and is of modified Baroque architecture.

ARCANUM MEETING

At the regular meeting of Conewango Council No. 115, Royal Arcanum, held at 8 p. m. Monday in the S. F. of A. hall, a change was made in officers when E. R. Boyd was elected secretary and Fred A. Yaegle was made trustee for a term of three years. It was announced that a class of candidates will be initiated at the July 27 meeting; also that a degree team is being formed. Games were conducted at the close of the business meeting, with Charles R. Swanson in charge and prizes for the winners. Another event of the

Swimming To Be Taught Men Going to War

Red Cross life saving instructors of the Warren County Chapter have arranged a meeting at the YMCA at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday for all persons who plan to join the armed forces and will need water skills and rescue experience before facing actual danger.

This will be the only opportunity most inductees will have for such training before embarking. Every man or woman 17 years or older, and physically sound, is invited to attend this meeting in order to obtain further information on one of the most thrilling phases of the training necessary for military service.

Swimming has now become war minded and old-time swimmers may well be amazed when they see this new technique called functional swimming. The skills and past week was a very enjoyable chicken dinner party.

KIWANIS SPEAKER

Rev. Emil Selander, missionary home from Assam, India, and now in Warren to visit his family, will be guest speaker at tomorrow's meeting of the Kiwanis Club, scheduled at noon at the Hotel Carver. Directors of the club are holding a special meeting this evening at the office of the Community Consumer Discount Company to discuss a proposed club project.

Veteran Flag of the "X"

Back from the Pacific battle of Santa Cruz, bearing honorable scars of battle, the flag of the battleship "X" shows why the Japs are not dictating peace terms in the White House as planned. Your War Bonds keep the battle flags flying against waves of enemy dive bombers. Buy that Fourth of July bond, thankfully.
